Dalaran Fishing Daily: Blood Is Thicker

Version Updated For Patch 3.2 / Wrath of the Lich King

Overview

Description

The bloodtooth is a fiesty little fish used in a recipe to cure infected wounds. We could use some of them, if you're up to it.

As the name suggests, they've a hunger for blood. The only way I know how to catch the little devils is by creating a blood pool and fishing in it.

Get yourself covered in blood - just slaughter a beast in the Borean Tundra - and then jump in the water. It'll wash right off and create the perfect fishing spot.

Tips:

- You'll catch 2-3 Bloodtooth Frenzys per cast.
- This fish can be caught at any level.
- Rewards Kirin Tor reputation and another random reward in the fishing bag.
- You can also fish out of pools of blood made by other players.
- You cannot be in a raid while doing daily quests.
- Keep clicking on the "Fishing" icon until your cast lands inside of the "Pool of Blood".

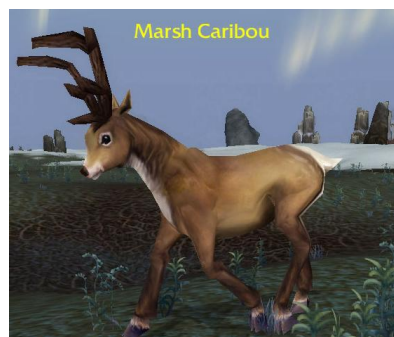

Step 1

From Dalaran at the Flight Master Aludane Whitecloud fly to the Flight Path in Tuskarr village of Unu'pe, Borean Tundra (both alliance and horde) . If you do not have the Flight Path we recommend you fly down to Tuskarr village of Unu'pe in Borean Tundra and get the flight path Bilko Driftspark <Flight Master> coordanites (78 , 51)

Step 2

From Tuskarr village of Unu'pe head north and kill a Marsh Caribou. (See picture of where Marsh Caribou can be found) After killing a Marsh Caribou you will be covered in blood and you have to jump into the water to attract Bloodtooth Frenzys. So head back to Tuskarr village of Unu'pe and jump into the frozen sea.

Step 3

Now cast your fishing pool into the blood pool you created to catch 5 Bloodtooth Frenzies.

Step 4

Now head back to Marcia Chase <Grand Master Fishing Trainer & Supplies> (52,65) in Dalaran and turn in the quest.
